Blizzard Leaves 30 Dead in Southwest Area

New Low Pressure Front Threatens Snow, Freezing Rain

By United Press
More snow and freezing rain Monday threatened the Southwest, already throttled by a record five-day blizzard that left up to 30 inches of snow.

At least 30 persons were dead in Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico from the storm, which finally eased and trailed northward.

Weathermen, however, warned that another low pressure front moving into west Texas would draw warm gulf air over the cold air mass—possibly producing the same kind of weather that buried the area under the worst snowfall in years.

Residents of dozens of Southwest towns used what might be a brief lull to dig out from the record snowfall.

Streets were being cleared slowly by crews working 24 hours in the hard hit cities of Plainview, Amarillo and Lubbock, Tex.

At Tucumcari, N. M., heroic bus driver John Heaton, 38, rested after walking 10 miles through deep snowdrifts to summon help to his stranded vehicle and 15 passengers.

One Child Aboard
State police finally rescued the passengers, who had been without food for over 20 hours except for two small sandwiches given the only child aboard.

Most highways in the south plains and Panhandle sections of Texas remained extremely dangerous. Only trucks were permitted to travel on some roads while on others, permission of the State Patrol was necessary first.

Light snow and a freezing drizzle fell over much of the stricken area Sunday. Temperatures remained below freezing from northern Texas into southern Kansas.

Freezing temperatures were reported in the Rockies and the northern tier of states but the rest of the nation enjoyed comparatively fair weather.

Sleet and Rain
Sleet, mixed with rain fell in northern Arkansas with rain or drizzle from southern Missouri eastward to the Carolinas. Light snow fell in parts of New York State and the Rockies.

At Santa Monica, Calif., emergency crews worked round-the-clock to clear some 200,000 tons of dirt and boulders which slid from a cliff onto a six-lane highway.

Arrest Carbondale Man in Manila With $48,299

MANILA, P. I. —The National Bureau of Investigation is searching for the source of $48,299.19 in personal checks and cash purportedly slipped to an American sergeant here for delivery to Hong Kong.

The U. S. embassy said the soldier, Sgt. J. C. Ebert, 36, was arrested Thursday for illegal possession of American currency.

The embassy said De Witt, Carbondale, Ill., admitted he was to deliver the money to an unnamed party in Hong Kong where he was going on a vacation.

He had the cash in a money belt he was wearing when arrested at the main gate of the U. S. naval station at Sangley Point in Cavite province, the embassy said.

De Witt, a veteran of 12-1/2 years service with the U. S. Army, was attached to the joint U. S. Military Advisory Group here.

Mollet Pelted With Vegetables By Algeria Mob

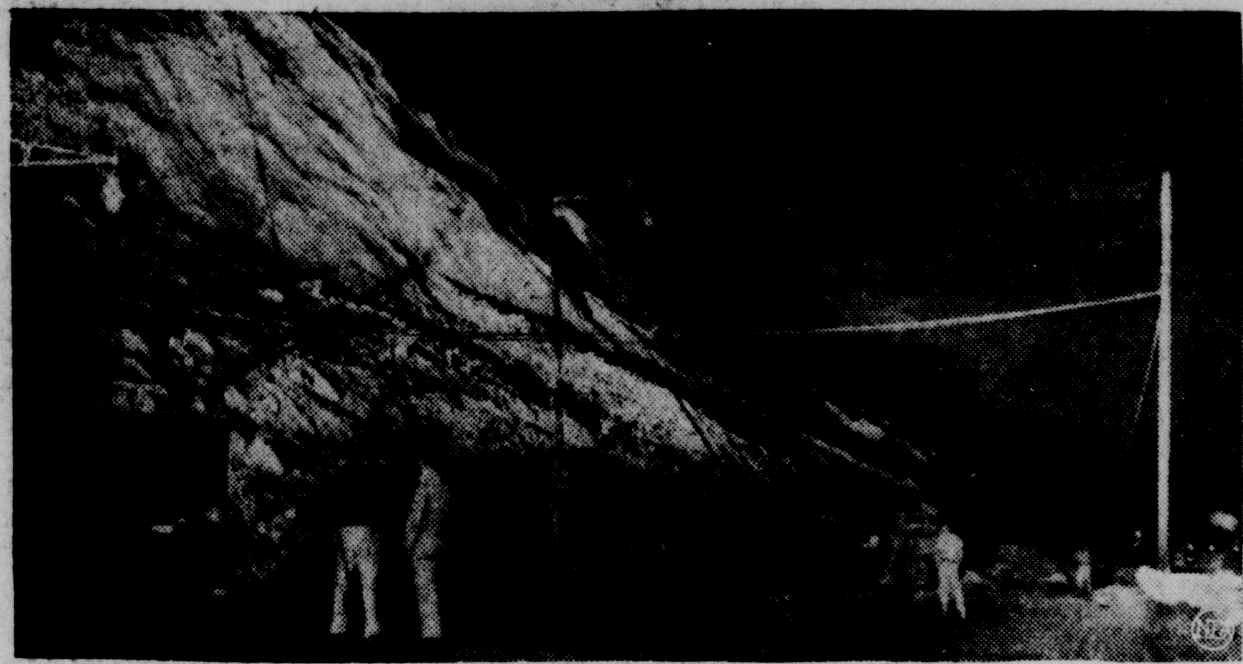

ALGIERS —A mob of angry French colonists broke through police lines today and pelted French Premier Guy Mollet with rotten vegetables when he tried to tell them his visit to Algeria was "inspired only by good will."

Gen. George Catroux officially resigned as Algerian minister resident as public feeling grew to a feverish pitch.

Mollet flew to Algiers today to try to end 15 months of civil war and save Algeria for France. He was confirmed as premier only the last week on a platform that gave priority to solving French troubles in North Africa.

Death Takes Mrs. Oral P. Tuttle, Club Woman, Active in Church

Funeral Services Will Be Held Tuesday at 2 p. m.

Mrs. Loudene Nyberg Tuttle, 64, wife of Atty. Oral P. Tuttle, Harrisburg, Industrial Court Arbitrator, who resided at 118 West Walnut street, died Sunday at 5:15 a. m. Her death, due to Parkinson's disease, occurred at Lightner hospital.

Dr. Warren D. Tuttle, head of the hospital staff, who is a son, had had her there under personal observation and treatment during the last 30 months of an illness beginning seven years ago.

Prior to her illness Mrs. Tuttle had been very active as busy wife, mother, church member and club woman.

Taught School

She was the daughter of Mrs. Jennie Nyberg, now approaching her 93rd birthday, and the late J. H. Nyberg, pioneer merchant and banker of this city. Born Sept. 1, 1891, in Harrisburg, Mrs. Tuttle was a sister of Mrs. Olevia Decker, Coalina, Calif., and the late John G. Nyberg, and she was a half sister of Dr. R. B. Nyberg, Galatia, and Mrs. Beulah Nyberg Hughes, St. Louis. The latter is in a nursing home and will be unable to come to this city for the funeral of Mrs. Tuttle.

In high school Mrs. Tuttle showed dramatic talent which was further developed at Lindenwood college, St. Charles, Mo., and at Columbia University's School of Speech and Expression in Chicago, from both of which she was graduated. For a short time before her marriage she taught English and dramatics in a Wisconsin high school.

Three Children

In 1918 she was married to her childhood sweetheart, Oral P. Tuttle of Harrisburg, who was at that time a young lawyer active in politics, who had been elected to the Illinois legislature from the 24th district and who is the son of Mrs. I. R. Tuttle and the late I. R. Tuttle.

Their wedding took place at the Body of Man Found In Ohio River

CAIRO, Ill. —Alexander County authorities today tried to learn the identity of a man whose body was found in the Ohio River last week.

They estimated the body had been in the water for three months. It was impossible to take fingerprints to aid in identification because of the condition of the body.

Bus Driver Half-Blinded After 8-Hour Hike in Blizzard to Rescue Passengers

TUCUMCARI, N. M. —A heroic bus driver lay half-blinded in a hospital bed today the victor in an eight-hour battle with a killer blizzard to rescue fifteen passengers trapped in a snow-bound bus.

John Heaton, the 38-year-old bus driver, was never seen again by the passengers he left in his snow-engulfed Trailways bus late Saturday to go in search of help.

Heaton walked through a blizzard for eight hours until early Sunday when he finally stumbled blindly into a gas station near Glen Rio in eastern New Mexico, 10 miles from the stalled bus.

State police, following snow plows, rescued the passengers a short time later. They were driven in another bus to Albuquerque, N. M., to continue their separate ways without getting a chance to personally thank the man who saved their lives.

Heaton's bus, bound from Amarillo, Tex., stalled in a snow drift at 9 a. m. Saturday. The passengers were rescued 20 hours later.

Nyberg residence, 118 West Walnut street, on May 22, and in July Mr. Tuttle left for service in the U. S. Navy. Following the end of World War I, he returned to Harrisburg and reopened his law office.

Here their three children were born and reared. All three made their mother very proud of careers which they chose: Dr. Warren D. Tuttle, the eldest, is president of the Harrisburg hospital and the Harrisburg Medical Foundation, also chief surgeon at Lightner hospital, Harrisburg. Dr. John Tuttle, dentist, is located in Santa Ana, Calif., and McLynn Burdett Tuttle is executive officer of a large hospital in Washington, D. C. They and their wives arrived in Harrisburg last week. There are five grandchildren.

Active Worker

While her children were small, Mrs. Tuttle, who had joined the First Baptist church as a young girl, served as superintendent of the Primary department and later taught an adult class for several years. She was also a member of the Young Woman's Guild, a unit of the Missionary society.

When the auxiliary of George Hart Post, American Legion, was organized she became a charter member. She was also a charter member of the first Junior Auxiliary to the Harrisburg Woman's club, which she served as president. In the Harrisburg Woman's club she was called upon numerous times as program chairman and especially in the Dramatics department, because of her ability.

During World War I she was a volunteer working untiringly for the Red Cross, in bond drives and other service that occupied patriotic women of that time. Friends and relatives have kept her years and months of illness cheerful with flowers and frequent visits and because of their wonderful kindness to her in life, the family has requested that flowers be omitted at her funeral.

The body lies in state at the Harrisburg funeral home, and it was her request that the funeral service be held there, that Mrs. Joseph M. Hart sing, also the quartet composed of J. R. Staiger, Bob Burnett, V. E. Joyner and Mrs. Helen Aseltine. Miss Frances Cummins will play the organ, and the Rev. Joe Mormon conduct the funeral service, which will be held at 2 p. m. Tuesday.

Burial will be at Sunset Hill cemetery. The following will serve as pallbearers: Dr. D. A. Lehman, Dr. E. M. Travelstead, Dr. W. J. Blackard, Dr. B. E. Montgomery, Dr. Frank P. Skaggs, Atty. L. M. Hancock, Atty. Seery Thompson, and Kenneth C. Capel.

Prisoner Tries To Hang Self in Eldorado Jail

Eldorado Police Chief James Johnston said today that an Eldorado city jail prisoner, Ed Cawthon, 31, tried to hang himself in his cell yesterday.

Cawthon was cut down by a city hall custodian, who had pleaded that he refrain from jumping. A doctor was called to administer to the unconscious Cawthon, and he gave him sedatives. Cawthon was recovering today.

Johnston said that Cawthon was arrested at 3 a. m. Sunday by Patrolman Donald Hopkins and was charged with being drunk and disorderly. Johnston said that Cawthon was "wild" drunk and said he was going to kill himself.

Around noon Sunday Charles "Biscuit" Moore found Cawthon on an upper bunk, his belt noosed around his neck with the other end secured to the top of the cell. Moore started pleading with him not to jump and called Emmett Horn, another custodian, who came to the scene.

However, Johnston said, Cawthon jumped. Moore reached through the bars and cut the belt, Cawthon falling limp to the floor.

Question Two Men Picked Up on Route 45

County and federal officers planned today to question thoroughly two young men picked up by three Saline county deputy sheriffs on Route 45 near Wason yesterday.

Held are James A. Trent and Kenneth C. Bishop, both around 20 years of age. They were arrested by Deputy Sheriffs Everett N. Sneed, James S. Lyon and Jeff Stricklin late yesterday when their stories did not satisfy the officers.

The deputies today said Trent told them he had broken jail at Statesville, North Carolina, where he was being held in connection with an auto theft and larceny. It was reported that both had been in jail at Statesville.

It also was learned that Bishop is an AWOL Marine whose home is at Murphysboro.

The youths were not quizzed extensively last night but a session of questioning with the FBI taking part was scheduled for some time today.

Officers said they were driving along Route 45 when a car ahead of them, coming toward Harrisburg, stopped and picked up two hitch-hikers near Wason. This auto pulled out onto the highway in front of the county car, almost causing a collision; so the car was halted.

Two boys from Harrisburg got out of the car when the officers stopped them, but the two hitch-hikers remained inside. Deputy Lyons questioned them in the car and when they said they had been to Eldorado looking around for an automobile to buy, then could produce no money or identity, he decided further questioning was in order and the hitch-hikers, Bishop and Trent, were brought to jail here.

They later said they rode a train to Eldorado, hopping off near the oil field northeast of the town.

H. C. Stanley, 66, Dies at Ridgway

Harry C. Stanley, 66, died at his home in Ridgway early Saturday morning.

Funeral services were held today at 2 p. m. at the Smith and Edwards funeral home. Rev. Joe Harris, pastor of the Methodist church there, officiated and burial was in the Jackson cemetery.

Roadblock Fails To Catch Man At Routes 1-13

Requested Meal At Cave-in-Rock; Feared He Was Irvin

A roadblock at Routes 1 and 13 in Gallatin county east of Equality Friday night failed to apprehend a suspect who some Cave-in-Rock residents feared might be Leslie Irvin. As things turned out, it was somebody else.

Sheriff Millard Holloway of Shawneetown said today that his force received the call from Clyde Taylor's restaurant at Cave-in-Rock stating that the man had got into a car at Cave-in-Rock which headed north on Route 1, that some people there suspected he might be Leslie Irvin, escaped murderer sentenced to die.

They were told that the man had gone to the Shirley Taylor home at Cave-in-Rock and asked for something to eat. She complied, Holloway said, fixing him some bacon and eggs.

When he was seen headed north on Route 1 Sheriff Holloway was called at Shawneetown. Holloway, Deputy Sheriff Jim Fox and State Policemen Michael Taggart and Carl Pendell put up a road block at the Route 1-13 intersection and waited for more than two hours without success.

Some of the officers were of the opinion the man might be Frank J. Toth, 29, of Chicago, who had been released from the Saline county jail last week, and Saturday it turned out that this was the case.

Toth, who was found in the furnace room of the Carrier Mills Social Brothers church on Route 45 the evening of Jan. 22, was feared at first by some of the church people as possibly being Irvin.

Released At Harrisburg

Toth was brought to Harrisburg where his identity was established. He was held here until a check could be made on whether or not he was wanted somewhere. An FBI report on Toth said that he had a criminal record but was not wanted as a fugitive; so he was released here.

Toth returned to the Saline county jail Saturday evening to pick up his billfold and razor, which he had forgotten when released. There, Deputy Sheriff Everett N. Sneed asked him if he had been to Cave-in-Rock the night before and he said that he had. He freely admitted going to the Taylor door and asking for a handout, and said that he was asked in and that bacon and eggs were fried for him.

Arrest At Old Shawnee

He asked for lodging for the night, he said, and was refused; so he went on his way.

Sheriff Holloway reported another Irvin scare. He said a young man who was flashing money and telling people he was Leslie Irvin was picked up at Old Shawneetown late Friday night, after the road block was broken up.

Holloway said a check revealed that this man was Charles Hines, from Indianapolis and other points, who was wanted in Chicago on a charge of embezzling Rodney, Inc., there of $2,000. Authorities from Cook county were scheduled to pick up Hines today, Holloway added.

Mrs. Maud Carter Of Near Eldorado Dies After Fall

Mrs. Maud Hafford Carter, 65, whose home was west of Eldorado near the Wolf Creek cemetery, died at 4 a. m. today in the Carmi Township hospital.

Death was the result of a fall received Friday night at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Charles Rosenberg, close friends, in Norris City. She leaves one son, Clifford of Carrier Mills, a brother, Calbert Morgan, Blackford, Ky., and a sister, Florence Morgan, Princeton, Ky.; also two grandchildren.

Funeral services will be Wednesday at 2 p. m. at the Wolf Creek church where she was a member. Rev. T. Leo Dodd will officiate and burial will be in the church cemetery.

The body is at the Eldorado funeral home.

Rites Today for Mrs. Donald Davis, 25

Funeral services for Mrs. Donald Davis, 25, former Harrisburg resident who died Friday night at the General hospital in Detroit, Mich., were held today at 3 p. m. at the Faith Baptist church in Drayton Plains, Mich.

She leaves her husband, one son, Donnie, and two brothers and one sister.

Ladejinsky Fired from Gov't Post Because of Conflict of Interest Deal

WASHINGTON —Wolf Ladejinsky, the out-again-in-again land reform expert, will be out of the government again soon.

He was fired Saturday because a private business deal conflicted with his government duties as a foreign aid expert in Indochina. Ladejinsky was told to clean up his affairs and come home as soon as possible. That probably will take several weeks.

The action apparently ends the government career of the controversial Russian-born official whose firing as a security risk and subsequent rehiring set off a storm of congressional protests in 1954. The International Cooperation Administration announced that Ladejinsky was asked to resign for action "contrary to conduct expected of any federal employee."

It said Ladejinsky bought $3,000 worth of stock in a Formosa glass factory which had been financed partially by U. S. aid funds. Participation in such a business involved a conflict of interest, the agency said, and violated government regulations.

It said Ladejinsky did not violate any U. S. laws and that no further action was planned against him. An ICA spokesman emphasized that Ladejinsky was not in a position, because of his particular job, to influence the allocation of U. S. aid to the Formosa company.

Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson ousted Ladejinsky as a U. S. agricultural attaché in Japan late in 1954 on grounds he was a security risk. Benson's action was based on Ladejinsky's connection in the 1930s with the Russian Amtorg Trading Co. and because he has two sisters still living in Russia.

Harold E. Stassen, then foreign operations administrator, immediately gave Ladejinsky clearance and hired him. Later Benson, under prodding by the White House, cleared Ladejinsky and apologized for his action.

Portable Stop-Light In Use at Poplar and Main

Purchase Will Be Discussed by Council Tomorrow

Harrisburg motorists were surprised late Saturday and Sunday when they were confronted with a stop-and-go light at the Main and Poplar streets intersection at the southwest corner of the square.

It is a portable device, brought here on trial by a representative of a company that makes them. The matter of buying the light, which costs less than a thousand dollars, will be brought up at tomorrow's city council meeting.

The light, which was taken in Saturday and Sunday nights, was in operation again today.

Chief Ross Lane said that the light is being operated on a 15-hour storage battery which can be charged at night by a charge within the unit, but that if the city decides to buy it, a 110-volt line will be run out to it.

Lane said the response to having a stop-and-go light at this busy intersection, where traffic in the past has been controlled by four-way stop signs, has been highly in favor of the device.

Police have been watching the traffic movement carefully since the installation and report that a lot of vehicle congestion has been eliminated.

Police feel that after the public becomes accustomed to the light, the situation will be even better.

Lane asked motorists who intend to make a left turn to make the turn on the inside of the standard instead of going around it, and to pull over toward the center of the street enough for cars to pass on the right if the left turn is held up by approaching traffic.

He also cautioned pedestrians to watch the light and to cross the street only with the green light. A number of persons Saturday and Sunday were crossing the street while traffic was moving at them from both ways and this created a precarious situation.

Irvin Cellmate Sentenced to Life in Prison

PRINCETON, Ind. (U.P.) — Lawrence Bryant, 57, Palestine, Ill., was sentenced to life imprisonment today on his plea of guilty to three counts of second degree murder in the shooting deaths of his estranged wife and two other persons.

Bryant was a cellmate of convicted mass murderer Leslie Irvin who escaped from Gibson County jail on Jan. 19 with Bryant's aid. Irvin was under a death sentence for the murder of an Evansville filling station attendant, and was accused of five other "Chinese execution style" slayings. Irvin still is at large.

Police feel that after the public becomes accustomed to the light, the situation will be even better. Lane asked motorists who intend to make a left turn to make the turn on the inside of the standard instead of going around it, and to pull over toward the center of the street enough for cars to pass on the right if the left turn is held up by approaching traffic.

He also cautioned pedestrians to watch the light and to cross the street only with the green light. A number of persons Saturday and Sunday were crossing the street while traffic was moving at them from both ways and this created a precarious situation.

Bryant entered a guilty plea to his arraignment in Gibson Circuit Court and was sentenced immediately to concurrent life terms on each of the three counts.

The defendant's children told the court his guilty plea was a "good thing."

Bryant was arrested shortly after the Nov. 4, 1955, shooting spree in a rooming house here. He told authorities at the time he was en route home where he planned to commit suicide.

Killed were Bryant's wife, Ethel, 49, Ellen Cox, 65, an aged visiting Mrs. Bryant from St. Louis, and Floyd Dillard, 47, a roomer who tried to disarm Bryant.

Bryant admitted killing his wife during an argument when she refused to return to him. He said he blamed the aunt for turning his wife against him.

Authorities, taking no chances against another jailbreak, said they will take Bryant to State Prison at Michigan City as soon as possible, possibly Tuesday.

John Lynch Rites Tuesday 2 p. m.

Funeral services for John Lynch, Harrisburg resident who died Saturday morning of a sudden heart attack, will be Tuesday at 2 p. m. at the First Christian church where he was a member. Rev. Glen Daugherty will officiate and burial will be in Sunset Lawn cemetery. The body lies in state at the Gaskins funeral home.

Natural Gas Bill Passes First Test, 64 to 30

Senate Leaders Attempt to Set Up Probe by Committee

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—The natural gas bill passed its first test vote in the Senate today.

The vote came amid bitter controversy over a Nebraska lawyer's admission that he made a $2,500 campaign contribution for a senator who had been expected to support the bill.

The first vote was on a motion by Sen. Charles E. Potter (R-Mich.), and an opponent of the bill, to send the measure back to the Senate Commerce Committee pending investigation of the campaign contribution for Sen. Francis Case (R-SD).

Potter's motion was defeated, 64-30.

The bill would exempt independent natural gas producers from direct federal price regulation. It has been the subject of a tense three-week Senate debate in which opponents charged — and supporters denied — that it would sharply hike gas prices to consumers. The House passed a similar bill by 6 votes last year.

Soon after the Senate met, the leadership acted to set up a blue ribbon committee to determine if the rejected donation to Case was "an improper attempt to influence" Case's vote on the bill.

The Senate leadership tried to ram through a resolution, authorizing the investigation, under an emergency procedure requiring unanimous consent. But this was blocked by an objection from Sen. William Langer (R-ND).

Leaders then announced that they would bring the resolution up for a vote in the regular manner after the Senate acts on the gas bill, which was scheduled to reach a vote late today.

Case read to the Senate a telegram sent Saturday by the lawyer — John M. Neff of Lexington, Neb. In it Neff described himself as "a conservative Republican" who has "been interested in passage" of the gas bill. Neff said the contribution was made "with no strings attached" and that he was "incensed" at the implication it was "a shady deal."

Case Lashes Back

Case told the senate "personally I would like to see the matter investigated." He added "I had no idea this was going to be blown up the way it was." Case lashed back at Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson for suggesting that Case had withheld his disclosure until the last minute in an attempt to defeat the bill.

"The timing was not under my control," Case said. "I brought it out at the earliest moment I could."

The resolution introduced by Johnson on behalf of himself and Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland of California would create a four-man bipartisan Senate committee to conduct "an immediate investigation" of the circumstances surrounding the donation.

May Delay Vote

The committee would be required to report findings and recommendations "at the earliest possible date," and not later than Mar. 1.

Neff told reporters he delivered the cash contribution to Case's campaign fund in January. He said he has been interested in passage of the pending natural gas bill, and that he learned during a trip to South Dakota last November that Case favored the bill.

But Neff said the money was given "with absolutely no strings attached" and for the sole purpose of aiding Case's campaign for re-election.

Former Golconda Man Dies at Paducah

Calvin C. Crank, 61, former resident of Golconda now living at 403 East Second street in Metropolis, died Sunday morning in the Illinois Central hospital in Paducah.

Funeral services will be Tuesday at 2:30 p. m. at the Sulphur Springs Baptist church near Golconda. Rev. Henry S. Barger will officiate and burial will be in the church cemetery.

He leaves his wife, Emma, one brother Walter Crank, Terre Haute, Ind., and a sister, Mrs. Hettie Lewis, Stonefort.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

The poor shall never cease out of the land.—Deuteronomy 15:11.
Our Father has endowed humanity with treasures far beyond human understanding, and we are just at the beginning of discovery of that treasure. Yet it is far from certain that poverty will be abolished. It requires industry, thrift

Register Carriers Participate in Good Luck Contest

The Daily Register carriers are beginning an intensive eight-week
search for clovers this week as the Second Annual Good Luck News-
paperboy contest gets under way.
The national contest, sponsored by the Good Luck Products Division of Lever Brothers company is open to all Daily Register newspaper-
boys.

With $1,000 college scholarships,
television sets, cameras, bicycles
and a host of other prizes as their goal, the Register's carriers will be asking their customers to save
for them the "clover stamps" from the front upper right-hand corner of the Good Luck margarine package of Family Style Good Luck.

During the eight-week contest
period, from Feb. 6 through April 9, the newspaperboys will pick up the clover stamps from their customers.

Each boy is eligible for as many prizes of his choice as are covered by the number of clovers he sends in at the end of the contest. Prizes
range from flashlights and printing presses for 50 clover stamps,
to television sets and swimming pools in the 600-clover category.

Valuable prizes are also offered for 100, 200 and 300 clovers. All prizes are illustrated in a comic book being distributed to all boys
who enter the contest.

In addition to these merchandise
prizes, each newspaperboy who collects 600 or more clover stamps
is eligible to compete for ten $1,000
college scholarships.

Best Advice to Taxpayers-- File Your Return Early-- Revenue Commissioner Says

Editor's Note: This is the first in a series of five dispatches prepared by Russell
C. Harrington, commissioner of internal revenue, to give
taxpayers some helpful advice in preparing their returns. This dispatch relates under the federal income tax law.

By RUSSELL C. HARRINGTON
Commissioner of Internal Revenue
Written For United Press
WASHINGTON (AP) — Now — in fact, the sooner the better — is the time for U. S. citizens and residents to file their 1955 federal income tax returns.

There have been no major changes in the law since last year
so it will probably be most helpful
to begin by stressing certain basic points.

The Internal Revenue Service
has compiled a list of questions
which gave taxpayers the most trouble last year after Congress
revamped the internal revenue
code.

To start with, the regular filing
deadline for individual taxpayers is midnight, April 15, the same as last year, but since that date falls
on Sunday this year, you get an extra 24 hours to file.

The question of "When do I get my refund?" can best be answered
by saying that you'll get it just as soon as we can check your return.

The best advice, if you're in a hurry for your refund, is to file
your return early. With more than 30 million returns to process, the later you file the longer it will take us to get around to yours.

We handle them on a first come,
first served basis.

The second basic point is who must file. That, too, is unchanged
and includes, in general, citizens
and residents of the United States,
under 65 years of age and with a gross income of at least $600. Individuals 65 or over must file if their gross income is $1,200 or more. For most persons, paid either wages or salaries, gross income is the same as the total of their wages or salaries.

Must File For Refund
It's always worth repeating
this: Even if you did not earn $600 last year it's in your interest
to file a return if during the year
some income tax was withheld.

You may be eligible for a refund,
and the only way you can get it is
by filing a return.

Due to certain trends — like
greater coverage by hospitalization plans and more people owning stocks and bonds — special provisions of the law require attention.
I will cover those later.

Also, certain events which happen each year affect the income
tax liability of many individuals.
For example, of vital importance to thousands of people this year
will be the deduction for losses
resulting from the hurricanes and floods which ravaged parts of our country during 1955.

It must be remembered that on personal, or non-business property, these casualty loss deductions
are measured by the difference between the fair market value of the property before it was damaged and the value immediately afterward. You should also keep in mind that the deductible loss
is limited to the cost or other adjusted basis of the property, and any compensation received, such
as insurance coverage payments,
must be subtracted from the amount to be claimed.

Because so many persons suffered storm damage to their homes
and other personal property last year, the Internal Revenue Service has prepared a booklet entitled
"How The Federal Tax Applies To Losses From Hurricanes, Floods
and Other Disasters." You can obtain a copy from your district director and should find it very helpful. Just ask him for "Publication No. 165."

Proof Of Loss
I also want to call your attention
to a provision of the law which permits you, if your deductible
loss exceeded your income for 1955, to claim a "quick" refund
of part, or all, of the income taxes you paid for 1953 and 1954. You will need to have valid proof of ownership and evidence—pictures will help—of the loss sustained. A special form—1045—is available
at your district director's office to make this claim. Form 1045 must be filed on or after the date of filing your return for 1955, but not later than December 31, 1956. I have issued orders that these applications are to be handled as fast as possible.

This so-called "carry-back" provision, as mentioned before, is confined to actual loss and not what it may cost you to rebuild or reign.

The tremendous movement of our population from one place to another has brought an increase in the number of taxpayers who sell their homes and buy another.

If you sold your home during 1955 for more than you originally put into it as your initial cost,
plus the cost of any improvements, the difference is not taxable if you bought another residence within a year which cost
as much, or more, than you realized
on the sale.

However, if you buy another home which costs less, you must pay tax on part, or all, of your profit. This tax may be at a lower rate, however, if you owned the home more than 6 months. If you sold your home and built a new one the time limit is extended to 18 months. If you did neither and your sales price exceeded the original cost, you must declare the excess and pay the tax.

Forms To Be Used
One further general question
should probably be answered before turning, in subsequent instalments, to some of the more detailed problems. That is which of internal revenue's personal income tax forms should be used.

This is one area where we have changed things a little. There are now just two basic forms — the 1040 and the 1040A, and we no longer use the term "long" and
"short" in regard to form 1040.

You simply use as much or little
of it as necessary.

The 1040A is a check-size card
which we can process in high-speed accounting machines. It is brief and simple.

Almost half the taxpayers will use this form. Specifically, it is designed for those whose income
last year was less than $5,000 and was in the form of wages or salaries from which income tax was withheld, or consisted entirely of such wages and not more than $100 of other income, such as pay for a part-time job, interest on which no tax was withheld, or dividends, etc. A husband and wife earning less than $5,000, including not more than $100 in other forms of income of the type
mentioned, may also use this form
to file a joint return.

The form 1040 must be used if your gross income was $5,000 or more, or if you had more than $100 in other income, or if you wish to itemize your deductions
because they exceed the standard 10 per cent of adjusted gross income. On the 1040A, you automatically get a 10 per cent deduc-tion to cover medical expenses,
contributions, interest, and other deductible items. You also get the same 10 per cent if you use
just the first page of form 1040,
and take your tax from the tax
table. If you can't find a great time saver — for you and us — to use the card form 1040A.

Determine Own Tax
If you use form 1040 you have to determine your own tax. And if your income comes from several sources, it must be listed on the other pages of the form and
your tax computed on the rate
tables which are provided.

When filing card form 1040A,
send it to your district director —
not to me as so many thousands have already done. He will send you a bill or a refund. Do not send a check or cash. Be sure to enclose the "W-2" form which your employer will give you showing your wages, how much was deducted for income taxes, etc.

When filing on form 1040, you also should mail your return to your district director. However, if your calculations show that you still owe some tax, you should attach your check or money order for the balance due, payable to the "Internal Revenue Service." Do not send cash. Also, be sure to attach your form "W-2's" if you have any.

One change we made this year
should save us all a lot of time.
You are now permitted, if you choose, to "found off" the amounts entered on your return or accompanying schedules. This means that you may eliminate any amount less than 50 cents and increase any amount between 50 and 99 cents to the next highest dollar.

Tuesday: Whether to file a separate or joint return.

Mt. Vernon Montgomery Workers Favor Retail Clerks in NLRB Vote

National Labor Relations Board
Field Examiner Barney Hicks conducted an election of Montgomery
Ward store in Mt. Vernon Friday,
at which time 23 employees voted
the Retail Clerks International Ass'n, Local No. 808, AFL-CIO, as their exclusive bargaining agent,
and 11 employees voted against the union. Thirty-seven employees were eligible to vote and there was one

The DAILY WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says:
Ike's Financial Men Worry
About Stock Market; Brownell
Continues Ducking Testimony
On Capitol Hill; Company
That Hired Ike's Parade
Chairman Lost Naval Contract.

WASHINGTON. — While President Eisenhower was sending his
"the boom will continue message" to Congress, a little group of men who guide the prosperity of the nation were sitting in a white
marble building a few blocks
away worrying about the same boom.

The little group of men were the Federal Reserve Board and they were deciding to ease tight credit controls in order to spur a little more inflation into the economic picture and keep the boom from deflating.

In other words, while the President was saying one thing, the Federal Reserve Board was acting
as if it was afraid of just the opposite.

This highlights the warning given privately to the President by economic adviser Dr. Arthur Burns that there would be a slump
in auto sales this year and a let-down in building construction.

In general also, it's believed by administration economic advisers
and by big corporation executives
that the seven-year bull market has seen its best days.

One indication is the way in which European speculators are taking their money out of Wall Street. Another is the shifting of investments from motors, housing,
farm equipment to utilities and oils.

In brief, the stock market is tired
and if the announcement comes

that Ike will not run again, it's likely to drop back to its October
low.

BROWNELL DUCKS

Senators are still wondering when Attorney General Brownell will condescend to come up to Capitol Hill to testify before one of their committees. So far he has ducked
out on seven different invitations
to testify.

The latest arose during a closed-
door session of the Senate Judiciary committee when Chairman Kilgore (D., W. Va.) read a letter from Deputy Attorney General William Rogers offering to come himself in place of Brownell regarding the proposal to hire separate counsel to represent the government in prosecuting those guilty
of conflicts of interest in the Dixon-Yates case.

Chairman Kilgore was about to accept Rogers' offer when Senator Hennings of Missouri spoke up.

"I think, Mr. Chairman," he said, "that it might be well to have the testimony of the attorney general himself. We have wanted
his views on constitutional rights,
extra judges, juvenile delinquency,
anti-monopoly, and several other matters, but so far we have been unable to persuade him to testify."

"Nevertheless I think we should invite him once again to testify
on Dixon-Yates."

Kilgore agreed.

"However," suggested Hennings, "I will make you a small wager that we will find the attorney general is either in Texas or Guam when we invite him to testify."

A few days later Senator Kilgore saw Senator Hennings on the Senate floor.

"You win your bet," he said,

"we have word from Brownell
that he's going to be in Puerto Rico."

Note: Brownell has ducked out on testifying before Senate committees on small business, twice
on antitrust policies, on civil rights, on immigration, and on legal ramifications of Dixon-Yates.
Brownell doesn't have to plead the Fifth Amendment. As a cabinet officer he can merely decline to appear, and the Senate can't subpoena him. Remarkably Senator Kefauer: "Brownell can dish it out but he can't take it."

FIVE-PERCENTISM DOESN'T PAY

There's more than the grand jury was told to the contract scandal that resulted in the recent reindictment of Warren Stephenson,
chairman of the Eisenhower inaugural ball committee. By a peculiar coincidence, the congressman who investigated Stephenson
used the investigation to benefit
a constituent.

Here's the inside story:
Shortly after Ike's inaugural ball, Warren Stephenson, the man who staged it, took advantage of his inside position to become a five-percenter. Among the firms hiring him was Century Engineering company, which had developed a new rocket launcher for the Navy. As the developer of the rocket launcher, the company naturally was in line to get the contract for manufacturing it.

Taking no chances, Century Engineering assigned Stephenson to use his influence with the Eisenhower administration to sew up
the contract. Meanwhile, a rival firm, the Spray-Con company, telegraphed a competitive bid into the Navy. Whether or not Stephe-nson's influence peddling had anything to do with it, the Navy decided to award the contract to Century Engineering, which deserved the contract.

CONGRESSMAN WINS

Before this was officially announced, however, Spray-Con got wind of the award and started pulling wires of its own. At this point, Congressman Bill Hess, Cincinnati Republican, stepped in. He asked the Navy to hold up the contract and ordered a hearing

before his House Armed Services subcommittee. This hearing resulted in the indictment of Stephenson for alleged perjury in 1953. The judge threw the case
out on the grounds that evidence obtained from a recorded telephone conversation was inadmissible. But, last month, Stephenson was reindicted.

Meanwhile, the courts and the press have paid no attention to what happened to the disputed
ADD MERRY GO — BUD

Navy contract. The Century Engineering company, which developed the rocket launcher in the first place but made the mistake
of hiring influence-peddler Stephenson, lost out completely.

At Congressman Hess's request,
the Navy's aeronautics chief, Adm.
T. C. Combs, held up Century's contract and invited new bids. So in the end the rival company,
Spray-Con, won the contract.

Then an interesting thing happened: Spray-Con subcontracted
the entire job to one of Congressman Hess's constituents, the Cincinnati Industrial Finishing company. In other words, an important constituent of the congressman
who ordered the congressional investigation landed the contract.

The Navy asked the FBI to investigate the original leak to

Spray-Con about Century's getting the contract. As a result, the G-men also learned about the interesting tie-up between Spray-Con, Congressman Hess and the Cincinnati Industrial Finishing company.

However, Attorney General
Brownell did not go into this tie-
up. He confined the case before the grand jury only to Stephe-nson's alleged perjury.

Everyone's talking about Wisk Here's your chance to try it FREE!

Have you gotten your free Wisk coupon yet?

It will introduce you to the most sensational washday discovery of your life... a new, blue, liquid detergent that outdates — and outwashes — every powder ever made!

New, blue WISK is completely different from any other detergent ever made. It is so much more effective, so much safer, and so much nicer to use that we're sure you'll never be without it — once you've tried it! And so we've sent you one of our special money-saver coupons. Take it to your grocer and start using WISK today!

What makes Wisk different?

In the first place, WISK is a liquid that you pour into your washer. It goes to work instantly. No waiting for powders to dissolve. But, more important, WISK is concentrated. It does three times as much wash as the same amount of powder — and does it better and safer, too.

Makes any washer turn out a cleaner and whiter family wash!

The first time you use WISK it will get your white things up to three shades whiter, no matter what detergent you may have used in the past. And concentrated WISK works wonders on spots and stains. It penetrates deep down into cloth fibers in a way no powder can. It gets all your wash clean!

First really all-purpose detergent!

You will use WISK for everything. It soaks dishes clean. Concentrated WISK wipes grease off stoves and kitchen walls quickly and easily. It makes old, discolored linoleum look like new. It gets yellowed kitchen cabinets white and shiny again.

No more messy, sneezy powders!

WISK does away with "washday hay fever" ... with clumsy, soggy boxes ... with messy powders. And because it does so many jobs so well, you don't have to clutter your shelves with all those boxes and bottles you used to need.

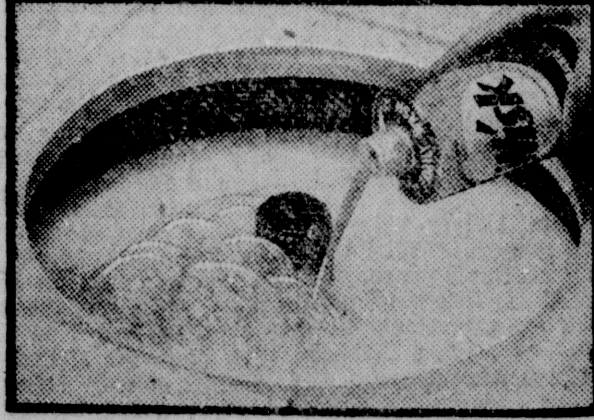

Wisk is unconditionally guaranteed!

The sooner you get to know WISK, the easier your washdays — and every other day — will be! So take the coupon to your grocer today. And remember WISK bears the famous Lever Brothers unconditional money-back guarantee. If you don't like it, you don't pay for it. Lever Brothers refunds every penny you paid ... plus postage!

Chairman Hall to Give Inside View Of National GOP at Springfield Meeting

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—Guests at the 59th Lincoln Day Dinner will receive an inside view of the national Republican political picture from Leonard W. Hall, of New York, chairman of the Republican National Committee. This year's affair, traditional with the Illinois Republican State Central Committee, will be held Saturday, Feb. 11, at Hotel Abraham Lincoln.

Governor William G. Stratton and C. Wayland Brooks, Chicago, Illinois Republican National committee member, also will present brief messages to the more than 700 guests expected to attend. All other elected state officials, along with local and state-wide Republican leaders and others will also attend.

Morton H. Hollingsworth, who is chairman of the Illinois Republican State Central committee, will be toastmaster at the $10 a plate dinner. Hollingsworth said that committee members have been preparing an elaborate affair to appropriately observe the birthday of the first Republican president. General Chairman of the dinner, Carlos W. Campbell, who is state central committeeman from the 21st district, announced that reservations for the dinner may be made at the State Central Committee headquarters in the Leland Office Building.

The program will include the traditional visit to the Lincoln tomb, where Chairman Hall will place a wreath. Later Hall will be the guest of Governor Stratton at the executive mansion.

Navy Plane, 7 Aboard, Missing In Antarctic

ABOARD THE FLAGSHIP AR-NEB, Antarctica — A veteran Navy radio operator used all the know-how of 35 years of service today in a vain effort to contact a Navy Otter plane missing since Friday in the Antarctic wastes with seven men aboard.

Distress signals were heard Friday and Saturday from an emergency radio believed carried by the missing plane but efforts by radio old timer Amory H. Waite to reach them again failed. He sent out a constant stream of messages to encourage any possible survivors by suggesting protective methods against the freezing cold.

Two land search parties failed to find any trace of the plane which was headed from an advance base 200 miles from the South Pole to Little America when it was last heard from. Little America is 400 miles from the advance base.

Expedition members still held out hope the distress signals were from the missing men. They said the signals appeared to be from a Navy "Gibson girl" air emergency hand-cranked radio which the Otter party would have.

The last definite voice contact with the plane was logged at 1 hour and 7 minutes after its take-off Friday morning.

Surface search parties set out, both from Little America and the advance base, but met 260 miles from Little America without sighting the plane.

A second Otter plane has been searching the route of the plane with no result. The Otter is a single engine plane equipped with wheels and ski runners for landing on the ice and snow.

Youthful Winner Of $100,000 Quiz Will Keep $33,000

NEW YORK — Teen-ager George L. Wright III will receive the original manuscript of "Me and My Shadow," the song he identified to win $100,000 on a television quiz program.

Musician Ted Lewis, who immortalized the song on American vaudeville stages, said he will give the manuscript to the freckle-faced high school honor student.

George, whose ukelele-playing hobby came in handy in identifying the question based on jazz of the 1920s, hit the jackpot on NBC's "Big Surprise" after nearly mugging questions twice in earlier program appearances.

The handsome, smiling youngster's $100,000 will dwindle to about $33,000 after the government takes its tax cut. Of the $33,000 three-fourths will be put into a trust fund for his college education and future use.

His plans for the other one-fourth are modest. After buying presents for his family he wants only a "tipple," a 10-string Irish version of the ukelele.

Father of Paul Hays Dies at Home In West Frankfort

The father of Paul Hays, associated with the C. F. Gidcomb furniture in Harrisburg, died yesterday at his home in West Frankfort.

He is John Hays, a retired construction contractor who was born in West Frankfort 80 years ago.

The body lies in state at his home, 1200 East Main street, West Frankfort, and the funeral service will be held at 2 p. m. Wednesday at the Second Baptist church there with the pastor, the Rev. J. F. Gill, conducting the rites.

Besides his son in Harrisburg he leaves a son, John D. Hays of West Frankfort; and three daughters, Mrs. Morio Ramellio of West Frankfort, Mrs. Ray Barney of Herrin and Mrs. Doris Wemph of West Frankfort.

Daughter of Ex- UN Secretary, Weds Real Estate Tycoon

NEW YORK — William Zeckendorf Jr. and his bride, the former Guri Lie, who eloped because a big wedding was "too complicated," made plans today for a summer honeymoon in Europe.

Zeckendorf, the son of New York real estate tycoon, William Zeckendorf, and his bride, the daughter of Trygve Lie, former secretary general of the United Nations, were married Saturday in Winchester, Va.

The wedding, which surprised friends and relatives of the couple, was announced Sunday by the elder Zeckendorf. He said he telephoned the news to the Lies in Oslo, Norway, who sent their blessings to the couple.

"It certainly was a pleasant surprise," Zeckendorf said. "Mr. and Mrs. Lie also are highly pleased."

Slashes Boy to Death in Theatre

ACRAMENTO, Calif. — Thomas Lynn Johnston, 24-year-old apprentice embalmer, slashed a 7-year-old boy to death in the washroom of a downtown theater Sunday.

"I wanted to see his reaction when I cut his throat," Johnston explained to police. "I just thought it was a good idea."

The victim, Ronald Wendorf, attended the matinee with his brothers, Billy, 10, and Bobby, 9. Ronald went to the washroom alone and Johnston admitted watching him leave and following him, police said.

U. S., Philippines, Thailand to Conduct Defense Exercise
BANGKOK, Thailand (AP)—The United States, Philippines and Thailand will conduct their biggest defense exercise this month since the Manila pact alliance was formed to defend Southeast Asia against Communist aggression, it was announced today.
The U. S. Navy said the U. S. Army, Navy, Air Force and Marine Corps will participate in the huge sea, air and land exercises near Bangkok Feb. 15-18.

When COLDS Make Baby Cry
GIVE HIM RELIEF THAT
Does More Than Work on Chest
When a chest cold strikes, use Vicks VapoRub—the proved medication that acts two ways at once.
When you rub it on, VapoRub quickly relieves muscular soreness. At the same time, VapoRub's medicated vapors bring relief with every breath. This soothing medication travels deep into Baby's nose, throat and large bronchial tubes. Congestion starts breaking up. Coughing eases. Warming relief comes, lasts for hours.
So when colds strike, depend on —

Just a Corpse at Twilight
By Robert Martin
THE STORY: James Bennett, investigator for the State Industrial Welfare Commission, is trying to obtain permission for an autopsy on Frank Osborn, who died six months before. Dr. Dick Jarrett, the coroner, objects and Bennett contacts Osborn's widow, seeking permission from her.
VI
Like Beech Tree, Steel City was swarming with people and bright with lights. In the hotel lobby things were bustling with Friday night activity. There was some mail in my slot and a yellow hotel form bearing a penciled message: Mr. Bennett — Call Mr. Tweed, Beech Tree Exchange 4099.
I went to the phone and asked the hotel switchboard girl to ring Beech Tree 4099. A female answered and I recognized the voice of Miss Nellie Tweed, the spinster sister of Wilbur. "This is Mr. Bennett," I said. "Mr. Tweed left a message for me to call him."
"Oh, yes," she said quietly. "Just a moment, please."
I waited maybe three minutes before Wilbur Tweed's nasal voice came on the wire. He was panting a little. "Sorry to make you wait," see no reason for her to object."

I heard him sigh. Then he said, rather stiffly, "I want to co-operate with you, Mr. Bennett, but under the circumstances I'm afraid I can't let you use my facilities for this post mortem examination."
"Why not?"
"Well, for one thing, it would be bad for my business. People are funny about things like that. The next time they have a bereavement they'll go to some other mortician. I'm sorry."
"All right. We won't count on you then."
"No hard feeling, I hope? You understand my position?"
"Frankly, I do not, but we'll make other arrangements—if we do the autopsy."
"Then you may not do it?" he asked eagerly.
"It depends."
"Upon Alice, I suppose?"
I had probably been lax in not seeing Mrs. Osborn personally and securing her signature on the autopsy release, before Dr. Jarrett and Wilbur Tweed had a chance to talk to her.
The phone rang. I got up and answered it.
"Mr. Bennett?" a soft voice asked.
"Yes."
"This is Lucy Dorn. I met you at the Winchester Inn, in Beech Tree, this afternoon. Remember?"
"Oh, yes."
"I—I have a favor to ask." She paused.

"A favor?"
"Yes. This may sound odd, but—are you going to do an autopsy on Frank Osborn?"
"Yes. Did Dr. Jarrett tell you?"
"That's right—after you talked to him at The Oasis."
"He's opposed to it."
"I know. He told me it wasn't necessary, that his diagnosis of the cause of Frank's death was correct, and that if Alice permitted the autopsy—after all this time—it would start gossip around town and stir up silly and unpleasant rumors. You know how small towns are. Dick—Dr. Jarrett—said he intended to advise Alice not to sign the release."
"I expected that."
"But you're going ahead anyway?"
"We'll see. Look, Miss Dorn, I appreciate your interest, but I'm curious—what is this favor you want?"
"If—if you do the autopsy, may I watch?"
I was surprised. "It's not a pleasant thing to watch."
"I promise to stay out of the way, and I won't faint, or anything. Please."
"I can't understand why—"
"I have a very good reason," she said quickly. "It's just morbid curiosity, really. Please try and arrange it."
"I can't promise. I'll have to let you know."
"Oh, thank you. Goodbye."

Frightening But Wonderful--5,000 Surge to Platform of Billy Graham

By George Burnham
Chattanooga News-Free Press Staff Writer
PALM COTTAH, India—"This is frightening."

Dr. Robert Pierce, noted American missionary leader who has seen many strange sights in the Orient, breathed these words a few minutes after Billy Graham had given 40,000 Indians an invitation to become Christians. It was clear it was frightening in a wonderful way.

An estimated 5,000 surged toward the platform. There was not enough space to hold them. The average response from a crowd like this is 1,000. Many believing Christians in the packed throng expected God to do something big, but none were prepared for the thousands who moved forward to accept this new way of life.

There was something in the faces of the people as they came. Many were weeping. Others had a look of joy. Both reactions had been produced by the same message they had heard in a language they could understand about a God who loved them and gave His son Jesus Christ for them.

Daughter Leads Blind Father
Men and women who had been sitting on straw mats in different sections of the huge outdoor meeting site moved down the aisles and quickly filled the space around the platform. Still they rushed forward.

A blind man was led by his daughter. A worker had told the daughter she would have to send the father alone with the men but Dr. Paul Maddox, Billy Graham's aide, intervened and told the daughter she could take him to the women's section.

A woman, sobbing quietly, left her seat and moved forward. She had gone only a short way when her angry husband rushed up and grabbed her roughly and pulled her from the stream of people.

The people were of all types— young and vigorous, old and ugly, deformed and diseased. There were only 400 counselors to talk with the thousands.

When it became clearly dangerous for more people to come forward, Billy asked them to remain where they were in the aisles. Many of them waited for hours until counselors had a chance to get their names and say a few words to them.

Additional FHA Loans Available For Farmers

Farmers in Saline county may apply for the additional loan funds available for financing 1956 operating expenses, R. B. McLeish, national administrator of the Farmers Home Administration, notified Marshall G. Clark, the agency's local representative, today.

The loans may be used to pay a wide variety of farm and home operating expenses including the purchase of fertilizer, tractor fuel, livestock feed and seed.

The loans will be made only to farmers who are operating units no larger than a family-type farm, and who are unable to obtain adequate credit from other sources.

Applications may be filed at the county offices of the Farmers Home Administration. The office serving Saline county is located in the Harrisburg National Bank building, Harrisburg.

All Farmers Home Administration offices have been instructed to give prompt service to all loan application, and Mr. Clark pointed out that these loans are short-term credit designed to help farmers finance one year's operations. Credit is also extended by the Farmers Home Administration over longer periods to finance adjustments and improvements in farming operations.

Real estate credit for purchase and development of family-type farms, for financing soil conservation measures, and for the development of water supply systems for farm home, livestock, and irrigation are also available.

Bull Dogs Lose 58-51 Tilt at Rantoul

Eldorado Beats Galatia, 80-67; Crown Brenda Kay Starkey Queen

Eldorado won a decisive 80-67 victory at Galatia Saturday night, making the third win of the season for Eldorado over their Saline county rivals.

The two teams waged a terrific battle throughout the first half. During the opening quarter the score was tied four times. With John and Dale Tate combining for 14 markers Galatia held a 23-21 advantage after the first quarter.

Scoring remained on an even keel in the second period, although both clubs cooled off a little from their free-wheeling offense of the first eight minutes.

During the second quarter each team scored 13 points and the score again was knotted on four occasions. At halftime Galatia was still on top, 36-34.

Early in the third period Galatia stayed in the battle and with 5:10 remaining to play the score was knotted at 42-42, but that was the last time Galatia was to be even.

At the end of the frame Eldorado held a 59-48 advantage.

The point making was fairly even the last quarter, Eldorado scoring 21 and Galatia 19.

Lindell Lovellette, Eldorado's big center, had a good night. He scored 27 points and did a fine job of rebounding. McFarland topped Galatia's attack with 19 points.

In the preliminary, Eldorado won 64-50.

Galatia held its annual Basketball Queen coronation Saturday night, ceremonies being held between the two games.

Miss Brenda Kay Starkey was crowned Queen, the crown being placed on her head by basketball captain John Tate.

The Queen and her attendants and their escorts marched the full length of the gymnasium and to the beautifully decorated stage for the ceremonies. To reach the stage they marched down an aisle formed by cheerleaders and basketball players.

Forming the aisle were cheerleaders Judy Pittman, Maxine Downey, Peggy Mitchell, Nancy Stone and Brenda Malone and players Joe McPherson, Elbert Cantrell, Lasley Kimmel, Bob Foster.

Johnny Druze Named Grid Coach At Marquette U.

MILWAUKEE — Johnny Druze, assistant coach and chief scout at Notre Dame for 12 years, was named Saturday as the new head football coach at Marquette University.

Druze, 41, was named by the Marquette Athletic Board at the recommendation of new Athletic Director Larry (Moon) Mullins to succeed Frosty Ferzacca, who was dismissed with one year to go on a 10,000 contract.

The Rev. John G. Holbrook, S. J., chairman of the athletic board, announced the appointment. Mullins was not present, remaining at Kansas State College to clean up his work there before moving to his new job at Marquette.

"We drew an ace," Mullins said from Manhattan, Kan. "We're lucky. 'We're going places.'"

Terry Brennan, Notre Dame coach, said "I think you're getting a wonderful man."

Soviet Team Victory, Austrian Star Toni Sailer Dominate Winter Olympics

CORTINA, Italy — The Winter Olympics, dominated by Russia and the individual feats of Austria's Toni Sailer, produced an avalanche of records and bitter defeats for Canada and Norway.

When the Olympic torch flickered out Sunday night in the shadows of the Dolomite Alps, Russia's superbly conditioned team had given a hint of the power it will unleash at the 1956 summer games. Russia pulled an unprecedented feat by winning the unofficial team championship in its first appearance at a winter Olympiad.

The Soviet stars chalked up Olympic and world records with effortless grace in speed skating and climaxed their brilliant showing by winning the ice hockey title Saturday night with a 2-0 triumph over Canada.

Sixth Gold Medal
The triumph over the world's No. 1 ice hockey nation gave Russia its sixth gold medal of the 24 offered and a total of 121 points. With points awarded on a basis of 10-5-4-3-2-1 for first through sixth places in each event, Austria finished second in the unofficial team standings with 78½.

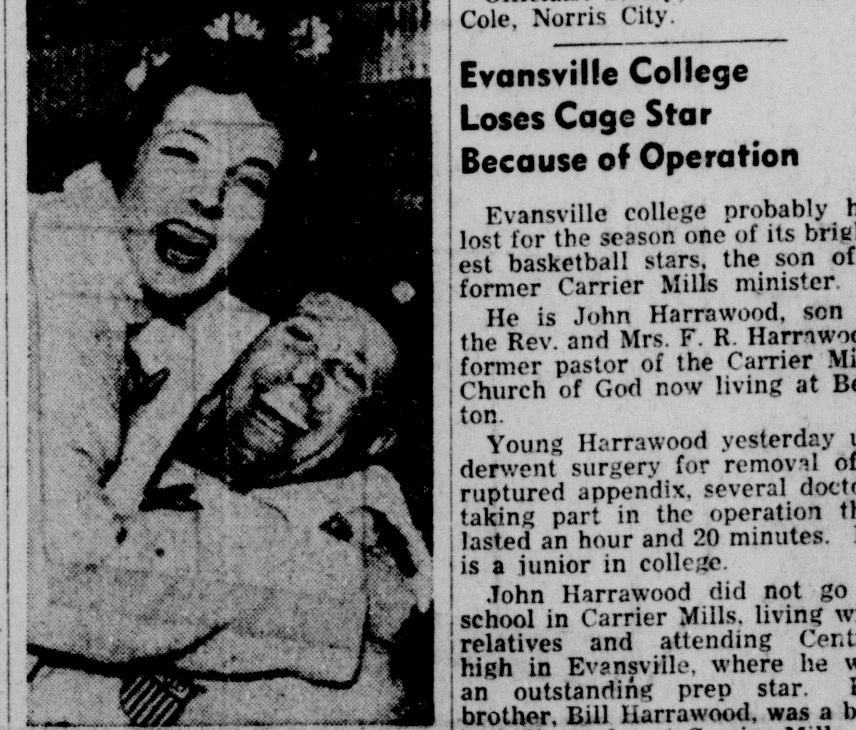

The United States entered one of the best teams it has sent to the Winter Games. Its gold medal performances, as expected were produced by figure skating stars Hayes Alan Jenkins and Tenley Albright. The Yanks wound up sixth in team scoring with 54½ points.

Actually, Olympic officials recognize only individual performances and Sailer emerged from the record of 947 entries as the finest performer in the 32-year history of the winter games. He became the first to win all Olympic titles in a single branch of sports by sweeping the three men's Alpine skiing events—downhill, slalom and giant slalom.

Other triple gold medal winners in past Olympiads were Norway's speed skaters, Ivar Ballangrud and Hjalmar Andersen, but both failed to sweep the four speed skating races on the Olympic program.

Andersen's failure against the Russian speed skaters this time was just a hint of the disaster that was to befall the proud Norwegians in the special ski jump which ended the seventh Olympiad Sunday. A Norwegian won each of the six previous special jumps and three times the nation swept the top three places.

But Sverre Stallvik's ninth place

TENLEY WINS — Tenley Albright is lifted into air by Giuseppe Gasparini, doctor for the U. S. team, after she won the Olympic Women's figure skating title at Cortina, Italy. It was the second Olympic title in two days for the U. S., both coming in figure skating.

Locals Come Close in Final Quarter

Play Centralia Here in South Seven Tilt Friday Night

The Harrisburg Bull Dogs, who dropped a couple of close basketball games over the week-end, this week entertain Centralia in a South Seven contest Friday night.

The locals, after the 45-43 nipping by the high-ranked Mt. Vernon Rams Friday night, made the 200-mile journey to Rantoul Saturday, where they lost that night, 58-51.

The locals had a big obstacle in the form of Dave Moran, 6-7 center, but by doing a fine job of pressing in the final quarter, came up close but could not get ahead.

The Bull Dogs went into the fourth quarter trailing by 11 points, 45-38, but the press narrowed the gap to 51-49 with only 55 seconds left in the game. In that less than a minute, however, Rantoul scored seven points to but a couple for Harrisburg.

Well Balanced Scoring
The teams played on even terms the first quarter, which ended, 11 to 11, but in the second Harrisburg was outscored 18 to 12 as Rantoul took a 29-23 lead at halftime.

The lead was lengthened in the third quarter as Harrisburg was outscored 20 to 15. Then in the final quarter Harrisburg put 11 points through the hoop while Rantoul was scoring but two and for a while it looked like the Eagles were going to be overtaken.

Harrisburg made one more field goal than Rantoul, connecting on 21 to 20 for the opponents. However, Rantoul made 18 out of 26 at the free throw line to nine out of 14 for Harrisburg.

The scoring was well-balanced among four Bull Dogs with Bill Henshaw high with 17 points. Ron Williams, who was guarded by the big boy, made 11. Wayne Stone had 13 and Bennie Fulkerson, who fouled out in the opening seconds of the fourth period, had eight.

Pups Lose, 53-45
For Rantoul, Moran had 17 and Jerry Zachary and Dick Taylor had 14 each.

In the preliminary game the Pups lost, 53-45. Harrisburg rolled up a 12-4 lead in the first quarter but trailed 23-22 at halftime and 39-34 at the end of the third quarter.

Find Mother, Three Children Shot to Death

GARDINER, N. Y. (AP)—Police investigated today the apparent murder and suicide of a mother and her three children who were kneeling—perhaps praying—when death came.

The husband and father, Robert Tattersall, 34, hiked a half mile from their modest cottage to a telephone to tell police he had found their bodies when he returned home from work Sunday.

The victims were Mrs. Alma Tattersall, 28; Veronica, 8; Alma, 5, and Robert Jr., 3.

Mrs. Tattersall was found in a bedroom lying in a pool of blood. Police said her husband's .22 caliber rifle was standing against the bed.

The children were sprawled on their faces in a row before a living room couch. Each had been shot once in the forehead. From their positions it appeared they had been kneeling, or perhaps praying, when they were murdered.

Coroner Francis J. McCardle said police were trying to find out how Mrs. Tattersall could have induced the children to hold still after she reloaded for each shot, if she did the shooting.

Police quoted Tattersall as saying he did not believe his wife had enough authority over the children to keep them from running away after the first shot was fired.

Tattersall had gone to work with a highway crew sanding slippery roads. When he returned about six hours later he discovered the bodies.
